XCEO Announces the Launch of Its New Website

Written By XCEO, Inc.

XCEO, Inc., a leading provider of board governance, leadership and board portal products and services, has announced the launch of its new website. Looking to capitalize on the functionality of its Enlightened Corporate Governance®, Extreme Personal Leadership®, board succession, and specifically, its BoardPortal PLUS® product, the new website features several important learning and development components that XCEO clients have come to expect.

In partnership with XCEO's technical and design team, the website was completed in an effort to provide an additional platform for XCEO clients to access critical information. Also updated are XCEO's leadership team, information about the company's vision and mission and the latest employment opportunities that are available for qualified and interested candidates.

Similar to the recently launched www.boardportalplus.com website, visitors to the site will note significantly improved interactive media such as news, instructional videos as well as recruiting and personal development insights, including recent and outstanding searches.

Michelle Ronco, Chief Marketing Officer at XCEO said, "We are so pleased to have a new website which reflects our innovative approach to governance, leadership and recruiting." She continued, "With the ease of use and the functionality that is the foundation for anything we offer, I am ecstatic that our visitors will have a dynamic and current place to communicate and interact with our team."

Many of the previous resources including the BoardPortal PLUS® login and links to download the Apple and Android BoardPortal PLUS® and XPress apps remain available on the new site. Each of President and CEO, Dr. Curtis J. Crawford's books, including Compliance & Conviction, Corporate Rise and McGraw-Hill published Manager's Guide to Mentoring can be purchased in the store.
