XCEO Announces the Release of its Latest Board Portal, BoardPortal PLUS® and BoardPortal PLUS® XPress iPad and Android Apps

Written By XCEO, Inc.

XCEO, Inc., the premier partner for boards and executive teams, announces a major release of its BoardPortal PLUS® and BoardPortal PLUS® XPress apps which are available in the App Store and the Google Play Store. While more than 25 new features were added to the apps, the fundamental goal for the release was to ensure that XCEO clients are able to capitalize on effectiveness, efficiency and to continue to enhance the user experience with upgrades and new capabilities.

Affecting each one of the five distinct applications within BoardPortal PLUS®, including the Enlightened Corporate Governance® evaluations, the Board Chamber and administrative areas, the Concierge information and research center, LinXsus® professional mentoring tools, as well as the BoardPortal PLUS® XPress communication suite, this comprehensive upgrade has many critical enhancements that allow board directors and organizational administrators to more easily and effectively communicate and share.

Mike Dobmeier, Chief Technology Officer of XCEO said, "BoardPortal PLUS® and XCEO XPress continue to be the cornerstone of our commitment to driving the portal market. Security is the number one priority for our apps and our latest releases adhere to the highest standards without compromising our leading edge features."

Much more than a traditional board portal, XCEO's BoardPortal PLUS® new release provides its clients the opportunity to seamlessly move between learning and collaboration tools. The enhancements as part of these new apps include several changes to the board book review process, annotation, navigation and other fundamental aspects to board meeting preparation and engagement. The upgrade also enhances key aspects of the app security and confidentiality, including login upgrades, signature requirements save and download options as well as other automated administrative and director-focused changes, each of which is fundamental to the BoardPortal PLUS® system.
